One of the sisters started East. marry sisters, then A marries B's sister, and B A's sister. Here is no marriage of blood relations, and yet it looks like a terrible mixture somewhere. The question arises for lawyers: Suppose each of the women to have children, what akin are they respectively? And which of them could lawfully marry, according to Leviticus and Chancellor Kent? If polygamy continues, these mixtures are nothing to what must take place in the next generation, for without a chemical analysis no "heraldry Harvey" of the content of the mixture same and a victim of parents of the state of the state of the votal power, just as the protracted non use of the arm of the Hindoo devotee at length paralyzes it for lindoo de chemical analysis no "heraldry Harvey" could ever succeed in finding the consanguineous circulation, to say nothing of the collateral. "As it now is, it seems like half the children in the city are related in some way or another to the Kimballs, the Pratts, or the Youngs, and many of them to all three."
